Testimonials

"Randi is that rare individual who can cut through the "BS" and gently and enthusiastically push you in the right direction to make the critical changes in your way of thinking so you focus on growing a profitable business. Through the process of the Mapping Foundation (Mind, Time and Financial) and weekly accountability calls, she helped me focus on the important aspects of my business, such as spending more time on revenue producing activities and holding me accountable each week. Randi's methods work, she customizes to your needs and she makes the entire experience fun and enjoyable! What I value most is her authenticity and the fact that she is not afraid to give her opinion if you veer off in a different direction counter-productive to growing your business. Her coaching has helped me get back and stay on track. Working with Randi is truly a turning point and I am grateful for her wisdom and guidance."

GROW YOUR BUSINESS

*The Randi Hutton Method - Your Road to Success
Growth and Accountability for You and Your Business*

Perhaps job loss, divorce or some other life changing event has left you wondering how to reinvent yourself and how you are going to achieve a steady income. So, you have created a business, found a few clients, earned some money, however, now you feel stuck. You seem to have no time for developing the business, for expanding and becoming a larger entity. You have great ideas that will take your company to the next level but can never find the time to implement them. Welcome to the world of the would be solopreneur.

The RZ Connection's advisory services for solopreneurs and small businesses will help you overcome these obstacles and will help you set-up a new business; jump start a stalled business or streamline an existing business. It will help you to find practical solutions to your challenges and be there to assist you in implementing the necessary changes in order to achieve greater success.

As an expert advisor to the solopreneur/small business owner, Randi Hutton has devised 'The Randi Hutton Method', a series of customized exercises and thought processes which will help to start and grow the small business. Her Time, Mind and Finance Maps create a strong foundation for a solid business plan and using these tools, the RZ Connection partners with clients in a thought-provoking and creative process that inspires clients to maximize their potential. Using the 'Randi Hutton Method', clients define and achieve goals faster and with more ease.

Each plan is customized to the individual and their goals. After the initial two hour session you will be ready to take action, however, strategies and accountability sessions are key to continued success and ½ hour weekly accountability sessions are recommended for maintaining and executing the plans created. These sessions enable Randi to provide feedback and an objective perspective while allowing you to be responsible for taking the steps to produce the results that you want.
